

The Altar of Fear

The more you learn about how badly you are enslaved the more you simply want to be free of it. A lot of people are beginning to become aware of it and starting to do what they can to stop it. Yet the age of enlightenment and freedom for all seems ever further away than ever. For some this enslavement becomes too much for them and they decide to take on the Just US system and fight the obscene laws that have been put in place to oppress humanity. For many that do the level of injustice and methods or coercion to sign documents is far beyond their comprehension to deal with. In many cases people are forced to sign off on a Promise to Appear which solidifies their contract with the crown thinking that they will get justice is in a court room.

Many go to court out of fear of not having their say to defend themselves and of the consequences of not doing so. Failing to appear in court comes with some severe penalties in some countries. Yet showing up in court only solidifies the contract you have entered with the crown even more. If you refuse to make a plea they enter a plea for you and things move along. The testimony of Police Officers is considered to be absolute as an Officer of the Court would never lie as they are under Oath. The same employer of the Police Officer is the same employer of the Judge and in the end things are decided before they even begin. Yes it is totally rigged and unfair and the judges along with their minions make millions of dollars every year from people ending up in their court system. The ruling class is always paid extremely well and cared for by the system to ensure the survival of the parasites over the many.

There are so many meaningless unfair laws out there, millions of laws making it inconceivable for anyone to know them all. Yet if you break just one of them, you are fined, thrown in jail or worse for it. So what is going on here? What is the driving force behind enslaving humanity to the point of destruction of earth and all life? Well simply put it is fear. It is fear that is driving this entire system. It is fear that feeds continuously and parasitically on people who are in fear and all that gives life to its companion, fiction.

In truth if you know who you are you are in truth then generally you have little if any problems dealing with the Just Us SYSTEM, in my observations. Part of the problem of course is many do not know who they are and simply operate out of a perspective of fear, which causes stress on the harmony you are trying to create for yourself and others. Now this is just a theory of mine and I don't know if it is true; however in a way it probably is. The purpose of the entire SYSTEM is to create an environment completely opposite to the nature of creation and the Law of One in that it is all fear based. When you go against the SYSTEM such as not paying taxes or refusing to enter a contract with them, what they do is make you put everything you have of "value" up on their altar for sacrifice. The more that you value the more fear that comes to you about losing it all, this includes your freedom and in some cases your life.

If you know who you are you won't flinch from your position, those who show that they do not know who they are treated as slaves and moved to the point of Judgement or rather sacrifice. The Judgement is a form of sacrifice in that it is the ultimate stage of not knowing who you are in that you allow yourself to be judged by another man created equal to you. Of course they are relentless, unfair and just wanting to perform endless tricks including breaking their own rules to get you to the point of judgement, for then it releases all kinds of energy for them in the form of mammon. All those bonds that were created through your signature now get converted into real money and ends up somewhere I am sure.

So of course the benefits to the slave owners in doing all this are simply enormous and yet there is nothing that benefits the slave out of all this is there? Well perhaps there is. By making you put everything of who you are on the line and seeing if you will remain true to idea that you have committed no crime and have done nothing wrong and that the outcome of whatever they decide has no meaning to you as you are not a fictional entity such as a person, but One with all of creation and thus love, it becomes incredibly difficult for them to find any fear within you to teach you about. The Altar of Fear as I put it is there to deal with those who have attachments to fiction based ideals and thus fear. If you are caught up in the illusions they project into the world then you are of that world and act accordingly. I have no problem putting my life and property on the altar as I have no property and are part of all that exists. My life, be it here or anywhere I still exist as love. But in being love I care not what the outcome of a judgement would be in that I don't judge and am not part of the world of fiction. I have just as much right as the judge does to determine what the outcome of a fiction should be as we are equal, so in free will I let him/her decide and I decide, but I decide by my actions and statements expressing who I am fully and in truth. So I really don't care what they decide so long as they don't harm me. Love seeks harmony it does not seek conflict or harm so although they might judge by what harm can they do to love? They can't and won't harm love because love is the fabric of all that exists and they know it.

So the Altar is there really to act as a check in many ways to knowing who you are. The problem we are facing is that fear and thus fiction has so completely overwhelmed us that many people don't even give it a moment of thought that fiction they believe to be true is perhaps not true. They see the injustice, but swallow the poison and think it is just the system and nothing "I" do is going to change it. Which in many ways is probably true, but it doesn't mean that you have to keep in harmony with it to the point of destruction of earth and thus humanity. At some point something has to give or we die. We are fast approaching that time perhaps.

Believe me the people doing this enslavement stuff are doing it in the belief that fiction is truth and truth is fiction or they would not be doing it. They operate out of fear and project that fear as this system. They act as parasites because they have no connection to love in the way love is nurturing. They see everything as having value and thus a thing. It is their will and their law that matters to them to create the order to secure their future and not the slaves. Many are involved in worshiping Satan and doing rituals based upon worship of deities, which is another form of giving their power away and being slaves. They give to their Gods so they will have power over humanity. Many Rock Stars worship Satan in their songs or the idea of a social hierarchy that is not based on Oneness for sure. Interestingly Gregorian Chant, Masters of Chant produces beautiful music, but dress up in nice robes you might see at a ritual sacrifice and kind of look like grim reapers if their hoods are up. As long as they get more than what the slaves get they feel that they are being rewarded for their worship and it continues.

However there are two sets of laws, one for them and one for the rest of the slaves that are not part of the worshiping control group. No they are not ever brought to account for their deeds, but are kept in check as not to harm the SYSTEM that lays the golden egg either. Darkness will always try and hide itself in light. Yet darkness creates the dependency and false light for people to believe in. Many people automatically think we would have anarchy if we did not have law and a justice system to deal with people, who break the laws. It is simply not true as when people are truly free, love and appreciation of all life is the natural order that holds things together. They have to use enormous amounts of energy to make this system work and it is still crumbling under the force of love.

To deal with the police is simple. Tell them you do not wish to contract with them and do not give them a name as you are not a name in truth. Do not offer up any ID as it is simply you who are validated by creation. Keep in mind the Officer is lying about who he/she is as they cannot prove that they are who they say they are in fiction. No ID can prove a fiction. If they are trying to charge you with something simply say, I can see how you might think I may have done something like that, but those laws only apply to persons and I am not a person, I am a kind of life sometimes referred to as man created as male/female by God standing in his/her dominion over all the earth. We are on the earth are we not? A country is not something created by the creator of this planet; do you have the creator's authority to do what you are doing? If they make you sign something out of torture or what you perceive as being going to be difficult for you, put Without Prejudice above your signature. This nullifies the document in that it can't be used in court against you. Note that any kind of a mark is considered to be a signature. What they want is you to confess to being a fiction. You could also write I am not a fiction, I am not a person and I do not consent to this on the paper as well.

Anything you get in the mail, just write on it, return to sender and mail it back to whoever sent it. Summons is merely an invitation to come to their court to resolve their problem in fiction. So simply return it to them, usually the Clerk of the Court. Include a letter stating that you are not a fictional entity but a kind of life and you might be able to summon the dead but not life. They summon and their demonic entity appears eh? Think about it. It matters not what they threaten to do as it is all done from the perspective of fiction. What they desperately want is your consent which creates a contract for them and a confession that you are their property and thus their slave.

Below is a letter I created and used to deal with a problem with the Canada Revenue Agency attempting to contract with me. They left me alone since. They don't necessarily do what you want them to do, but they will leave you alone. In the end it is all about fiction and knowing who you are is critical to keeping the parasites at bay.

Here is the letter:

c/o: moth day, year

c/o: Winnipeg Tax Center

c/o: xxx Street address
Province
Canada (postal code)

To whom it may concern:

Re: mail

I am returning your letter. I instructed one of your workers there (within your imaginary world of fiction) to adjust the account(s) to zero and not to bother me with any further issues concerning taxes or CRA in General and that still stands. Your assumptions are incorrect in that I am ALL CAPS NAME as I am not a name, nor a legal fiction of any kind. Your assumptions that I a man created as male by God standing in my dominion over all the earth as per Genesis 1:26-28 where God says he gave man dominion, have anything to do with a fictional based entity called Canada.

Dominion means to rule and thusly I am not under any other man's rule within the context of the Bible. The statutes only apply to Government agents, of which I am not. However I do hold dominion over all paper work and fictions put forward to me as the paperwork is on the earth. I appreciate that you keep the accounts all adjusted to zero and kindly do not bother me any further with these issues concerning taxes, this is not a request it is my rule to you, if somehow you can prove to me that you are a Government Agent as that is merely a fiction not truth, isn't that right?

Anytime you like to let me know of the true nature of your authority I be glad to hear it, but Canada does not exist in truth and all the actors within the fiction are merely man created as male and female by God playing roles in fiction. They can only point to fiction based titles to derive authority, when it is clear that they are only man. The creator did not create Canada, man did. The creator created earth upon which I stand, live and exist. I am and have done nothing wrong and I am being very clear on who I am and who you are.

Further all religious based laws including the Torah, Talmud, Koran etc. are merely creations of man. It is self evident that all man is free. We don't need to write rules down on paper to tell us that. It is by my words alone that I rule as I am one with the Creator and Creation of all that exists. It is not my concern how the man created as female called the Queen or the Pope wish to run their imaginary world. My concern is only how I want to run it and interface with it as they are equal to me as life within all that exists. I can cause no harm to fiction, no one can. So again adjust the accounts to zero and do not interfere with my rule in saying so. Return all money paid in taxes to named fiction FRANCIS ROBERT THOMAS HAY and do not bother me with these matters ever again.

In truth we are all simply expressions of one infinite love. Love is all we are and ever will be. The simple idea of taking the aspects of love and inverting them so that people see a world based upon ownership and slavery does not detract from the truth I wrote about above. Fiction needs rules to support its illusions as it holds no truth so it must make use of force to enforce its rule over fiction. Parasites play this game as they are imaginary forms of life that need to feed of life. They have severed their connection to love and thus life, but that is only an illusion they wish to propagate, as in truth we are all one in the infinite expression of life of love.

Sincerely Yours;

A unique expression of love within the dream of life standing in freedom upon the earth and within all that exists.

You do not need to sign the letter because you need not validate life you give to the words you put down as you are part of all that exists. You are just as much the words and paper as you are your body. We are One. When you sign something you are expressing that it is a thing and no part of you and all that exists. See how subtle this can get? Knowing who you are is about increasing your awareness of who you are why you think you are. Most people don't seem to care or comprehend this simple idea of oneness and get sucked up into the system like moths to a burning flame. Sadly as much and as hard I work to explain this to you, it is the fear within you that will ultimately drive your decision making and actions. It is not a judgement, it is merely fear. Perhaps the end of the Mayan Calendar will bring the end of fear with it as well, I hope so.

One last thing that you might think about, is that all this exists because we do hold fear within us. The purpose of the system is to cause us to feel the pain created by that fear so that we will move back into love. From the perspective of unconditional love, we are left to discover this for ourselves. Until we all move into love there will be pain created and we are all meant to feel and deal with this. When fear is no longer tolerated we will heal the wounds and move on. Just a thought.
